Professional advisors play a critical role in the future of philanthropy in our region. Two committees of professional advisors work closely with The Chicago Community Trust to learn more about the community and to better address their clients' philanthropic goals. These committees are composed of lawyers, financial advisors, investment managers, accountants, trust officers and others from top advisory companies throughout metropolitan Chicago.

The Young Professional Advisory Committee, established in 2005, includes our advisors under the age of 40.
